

Bhanudej – Male, 5.5 yrs old

Bhanudej is a very special, loving boy who is deeply cherished by the team. He was found abandoned and brought in from the pound in a shocking state with severe skin issues. While his skin is now well-managed through a good diet, his past has left him easily overwhelmed and terrified by sudden changes.

Once settled, he is an adorable, calm "love-bug" and a wonderful companion dog who is absolutely worth the extra care!

Overview

- Age: Almost 5.5 years old
- Colour: Sable
- Neuter Status: Unneutered (neutering is currently not advised due to his anxiety levels)
- Temperament: Gentle, calm at home, loving, and entirely without malice—just easily frightened by change.

Managing His Anxiety

- Stress Responses: When terrified or over-stimulated, his stress can manifest as heavy panting, humping, or vomiting. This can look dramatic, but he responds well to a calm, patient human.
- The 3-3-3 Rule: He needs at least 3 initial days to decompress without pressure or panic. Time-outs, reassurance, and a non-flustered environment are key to helping him settle.
- Exercise & Walks: He hates walks due to the overwhelming sensory changes outdoors. He does not need regular walks; a secure garden and interactive brain games are more than enough to keep him happy.

Ideal Home Requirements

- Environment: A quiet, low-stress household with someone around for most of the day. He loves to chill and thrives in a predictable routine.
- Children: Best suited for homes with older children (11+ years only).
- Other Pets:
 - Dogs: No aggressiveness has been noted, but introductions must be handled very carefully as he can get over-excited. A calm, neutered, female dog may be fine with a tolerant, managed introduction and could even boost his confidence.
 - Cats: Untested.

Think you can give Bhanudej the peaceful forever home he deserves?
