Any additional training needs: Ankamali is a sweet, smart, loving, mature lady, who has gradually learned to trust her foster carers after the sad passing of her previous owner. She just needs a gentle settling-in period, she has been grieving the loss of her owner. She is housetrained, friendly to other dogs and people on walks, and can be left alone without issue. She's not keen on harnesses or anything placed over her head, though she does tolerate it if handled carefully, probably due to her arthritis.	Type of home needed: Ankamali needs a stable, loving home with a patient adopter — ideally someone who can offer her gentle attention, a quiet environment, and the time to build trust. She would do best with a calm male dog and will thrive in a calm, quiet household with encouragement and understanding of her sensitivities. She loves being the centre of attention, enjoys gentle play, and is affectionate with people. She flourishes in an environment where she receives lots of encouragement and love. Ankamali enjoys fair weather walks and snuggling. She is happy to be left alone and will sleep in her bed when left.
